

Figurative Language and The Night Gardener

The following phrases and sentences have been taken from The Night Gardener by Jonathan Auxier.

1. "Steam rose from the soil like a phantom..."
2. "The mud was black and greedy, holding on to whatever touched it..."
3. "The girl peered through the banister rails like a prisoner."
4. "Even her [Mistress Windsor's] movements were elegant. Like a picture come alive"
5. "... a battlefield littered with the corpse of dollies and wooden toys and stuffed animals."
6. "Dark shadows flickered and danced across her face ..."
7. "... a gallery of bad dreams."
8. "Kip had poured his very heart into its [the letters] composition and to ignore that seemed cruel, like setting fire to a prayer."
9. "Molly thought to herself that it [the bag of money] sounded more like a bag of chains."
10. "... her every footstep an earthquake."
11. "Even now, he could feel it [the pit] at his heels, calling to him, taunting him."
12. "It [the key] weighed like an anchor in her palm."
13. "Leaves swirled around them spinning and swooping in a gentle, almost beautiful dance."
14. "He turned over, and her head lolled to one side like a dead weight."
15. "Molly felt a wave of guilt wash over her."
16. "She picked it [the button] up, holding it between her fingers like a jewel."
17. "The debt, the loans . . . It's like an anaconda coiled around me, squeezing me tighter and tighter."

18. "Black sap covered the place where the branch had been torn off, like blood from a wound."
19. "They had enough oil to set the world ablaze."
20. "Molly started up at the tree, its black branches spreading out like a poison across the moonless sky."
21. "The house crackled and roared like a giant's funeral pyre."
22. "There had to be a weak spot somewhere – a soft underbelly, a chink in the armor . . ."
23. "Little embers swirled gently through the air like snowflakes."
24. "Molly stared at the mountain of fire...."

Figurative Language and The Night Gardener

Answer Key

1. "Steam rose from the soil like a phantom..." Simile
2. "The mud was black and greedy, holding on to whatever touched it..."
Personification
3. "The girl peered through the banister rails like a prisoner." Simile
4. "Even her [Mistress Windsor's] movements were elegant. Like a picture come alive" Simile
5. "... a battlefield littered with the corpse of dollies and wooden toys and stuffed animals." Metaphor
6. "Dark shadows flickered and danced across her face ..." Personification
7. "... a gallery of bad dreams." Metaphor
8. "Kip had poured his very heart into its [the letters] composition and to ignore that seemed cruel, like setting fire to a prayer." Simile
9. "Molly thought to herself that it [the bag of money] sounded more like a bag of chains." Simile
10. "... her every footstep an earthquake." Metaphor
11. "Even now, he could feel it [the pit] at his heels, calling to him, taunting him." Personification
12. "It [the key] weighed like an anchor in her palm." Simile
13. "Leaves swirled around them spinning and swooping in a gentle, almost beautiful dance." Personification
14. "He turned over, and her head lolled to one side like a dead weight."
Simile
15. "Molly felt a wave of guilt wash over her." Metaphor
16. "She picked it [the button] up, holding it between her fingers like a jewel."
Simile

17. "The debt, the loans . . . It's like an anaconda coiled around me, squeezing me tighter and tighter." Simile
18. "Black sap covered the place where the branch had been torn off, like blood from a wound." Simile
19. "They had enough oil to set the world ablaze." Hyperbole
20. "Molly started up at the tree, its black branches spreading out like a poison across the moonless sky." Simile
21. "The house crackled and roared like a giant's funeral pyre." Simile
22. "There had to be a weak spot somewhere – a soft underbelly, a chink in the armor . . ." Metaphor
23. "Little embers swirled gently through the air like snowflakes." Simile
24. "Molly stared at the mountain of fire...." Metaphor